Crime Scene House Open House

The Houston Forensic Science Center invites the public to take a deep dive into crime scene investigation and forensic science as it opens the doors to its Crime Scene House near downtown Houston. In honor of National Forensic Science Week, guests will be invited to hunt for clues in mock crime scenes and do hands-on activities to learn about other forensic disciplines, including latent prints, firearms examination, controlled substances and DNA. The events are designed for all ages and admission is FREE. Space is limited and pre-registration is REQUIRED.

So come on down and spend the day as a forensic scientist!
